

Finding and Connecting Missing Children on FamilySearch

Rachel Crump Matheus
RootsTech Experience Manager

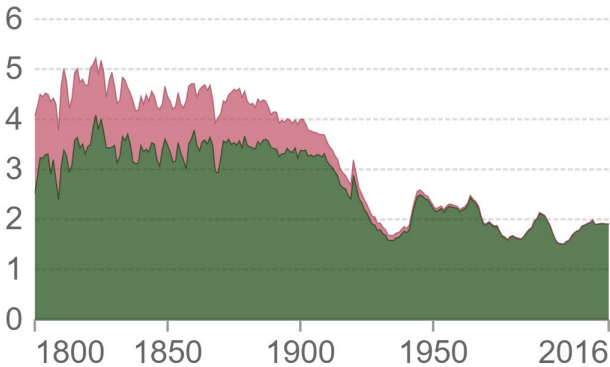

Children per woman that survived childhood vs those that died in childhood, 1800 to 2016

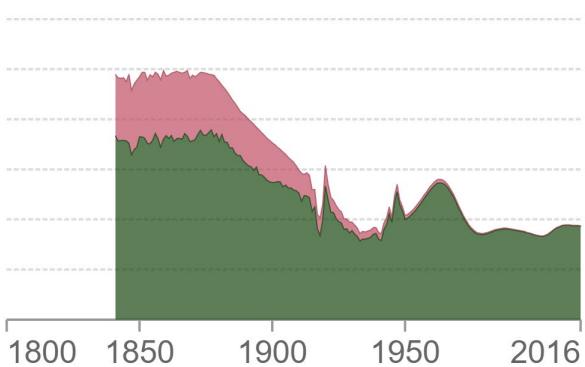

The total height of the orange and purple areas shows the average number of children born per woman. The area in purple shows the average number of children an average woman gave birth to, who died within the first five years of life.

■ Children that died before 5 years of age per woman ■ Children that survived past 5 years of age per woman

Chile

Guatemala

“Here ends the joy of my life,”

“5 years and 3 days old onely, but at that tender age a prodigy for witt and understanding; for beauty of body a very angel; for endowment of mind of incredible and rare hopes.”

John Evelyn
1658

A Few Tips From My Friends

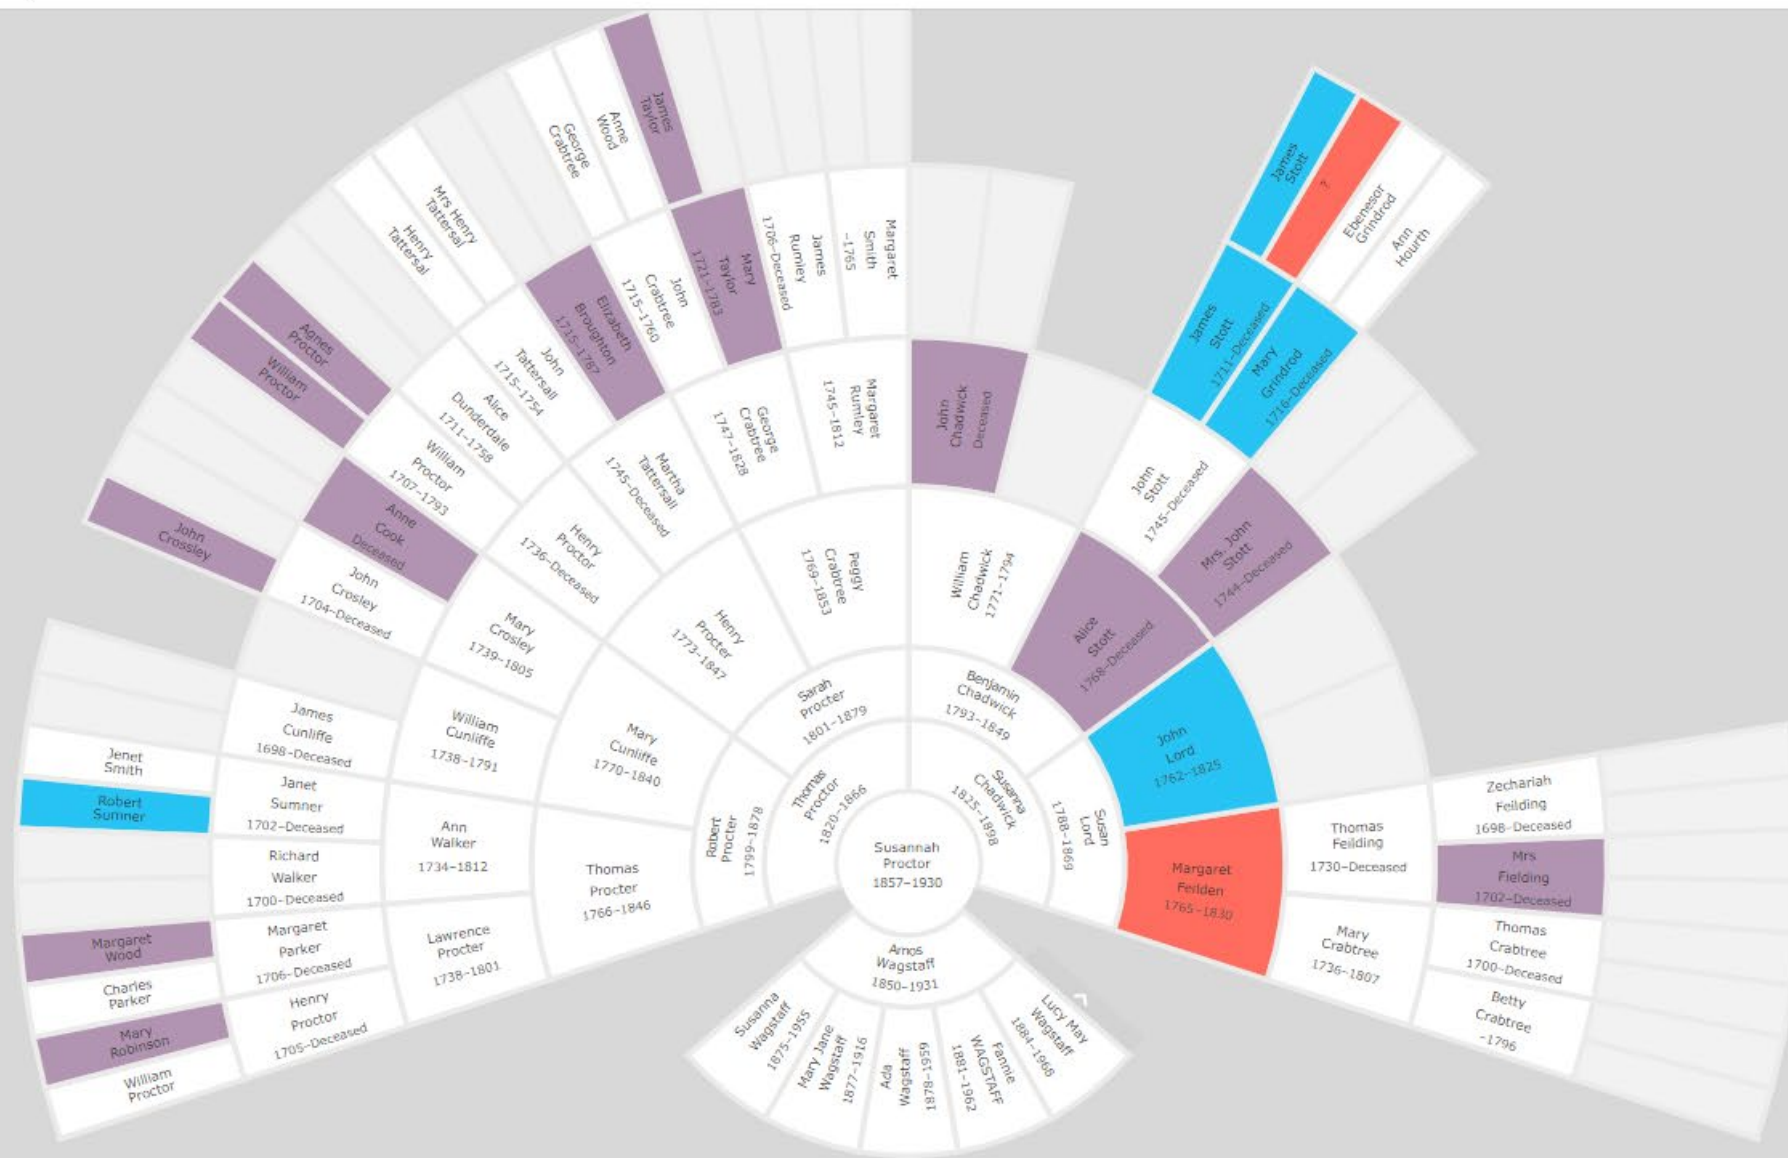

Pro Tips!

- Look for gaps between children of more than a year
- Look for more than birth records:
 - Baptism
 - Obituaries
 - Cemetery
 - Death
 - Probate
- In Latin American countries, burial records are less common– look for baptisms
- Don't be surprised if you find births before marriages or shortly after
- In the US the 1900 and 1910 census listed how many births the mother had and how many living children
- Take advantage of the Research Hints view on FamilySearch
- Timeline view on a person page can be paint the picture
- Check in the households of siblings and other family members

Possible Missing Child
The last child was born 3 or more years before the mother turned 40.

Person May Have Another Spouse
There is no evidence of another marriage, but this person lived long enough after the last spouse passed away to marry again.
