Class Objective:

In this presentation you will learn about helpful records for the Swiss census, where to locate them and how to access them.

INTRODUCTION

Before the year 1850, the Swiss census [Volkszählung] was handled on a cantonal basis, meaning that there was no standardized system to account for the population in place at that time. Information obtained in these could vary between cantons and often was more for statistical purposes only.

The first federal census was taken in 1850 and included the following information:

- Households
- Buildings and residences
- Age/birth information
- Religion
- Social status
- Foreign residence

Canton Aargau

The Family History Library has the census records for this canton for the years 1837 and 1850.

The 1837 census was filmed by the Genealogical Society of Utah in 1990 and consists of 4 microfilm rolls. They are not digitized.

The films are arranged by the following districts:

Aarau, Baden, Bremgarten, (first part of alphabet) on film 1692519

Bremgarten (second part of alphabet), Villingen, Fischbach, Gößlikon, Brugg, Kulm, Laufenburg, Eigen-Niederzeihen on film 1705871

Laufenburg, Niederzeihen-Wil, Lenzburg, Muri, and Rheinfelden on film 1705872

Zofingen and Zurzach on film 1705873

Information Contained in the 1837 Aargau Census

- House number
- Arranged alphabetically within given districts
- Surnames and given names
- Gender
- Places of citizenship and origin
- Foreign residence

The 1850 census was also filmed by The Genealogical Society of Utah in 1990. These consist of 7 rolls of microfilm and also are not digitized. They are also arranged by districts as follows:

Aarau, Baden, Bellikon-Mägenwil on film 1705874

Baden, Mägenwil-Würenlos, Bremgarten on film 1705875

Brugg, Kulm: Beinwil-Leimbach on film 1705876

Lenzburg, Muri: Abtwil-Muri on film 1705878

Muri: Muri-Zuzgen, Rheinfelden, Zofingen: Aarburg-Oftringen on film 1705879

Zofingen:Oftringen-Zofingen, Zurzach on film 1705880

Information Contained in the 1850 Aargau Census

- House number
- Running number
- Family and given names
- Gender
- Citizenship, canton and foreign land
- Religion
- Marital status
- Occupation

Canton Basel

For Canton Basel there are census records available for the city of Basel which are also at the FamilySearch.org website. The time periods of these records begins in 1590 as a register of inhabitants, population counts, horses and animals and continues through various years. Later for the years 1798-1803 there will be heads of households, family members and renters and occupations. The two film numbers for these records are 1196919 and 1196920, the later also being digitized and available online.

For the census of later years of Basel-Stadt, there are again various years beginning in 1815-1860

For the Canton Basel Federal Census of 1850, there is an online link to a PDF https://ipna.unibas.ch/bbs/pdf/BBS_Volkszaehlung_1850_Basel.pdf

Canton Bern

To check for holdings in the Bern Archives, you can go to the following site:

<http://www.query.sta.be.ch/volltextsuche.aspx>

When you find a topic that interests you, you should remember to open the various drop-down boxes. Although the website text will be in English, do not use the search term "census". Rather use the term Volkszählung. After determine which option you would like to look at, click on the icon under the AP (archive Plan) heading. This will open more drop-down options.

Please be aware that at this time, these items are not available to use online. You would need to write the archive to see whether they would help you research this.

Another item of interest for the Canton Bern is a book containing transcriptions of the male citizens aged 20-69 from Bern Canton, who took oaths of allegiance in 1798. These are arranged by district and alphabetically by surname. Text is in German and English. There are three volumes.

The Family History call number is 949.454 P49r v.1-3. You can search for copies elsewhere by going to <https://www.worldcat.org/>. ISBN: 0897253760.

Napoleon instigated the census of all males in 1808 and used it to form his armies.

"The census started around 1808. Prior to this, church records reflect the population count. There was a lot of information collected about men, including age, location, etc. For women, there was just a tally and no information. Within the family, the oldest male was the head of the household. This could be the father, the grandfather, or the great grandfather. Families usually consisted of 20 members or more, including grandparents and other relatives. Most people did not live past age 65." Canton Zürich

There is a register for the filmed Canton Zürich census. It can be found both in book form and in digital form on the FamilySearch website at this link:

<https://familysearch.org/search/catalog/260897?availability=Family%20History%20Library>.

There are many localities on this film, and since they are not indexed, it will be necessary to look at the pages for the correct locality. The register will help get you to the right film and narrow down your search greatly.

Although mainly for this canton, there are some entries for Cantons Aargau, St. Gallen, and Schaffhausen, as well. The census started in the year 1634 and in some cases continue on till 1767. These records show family relationships and sometimes even go further back than the church records.

All small communities appear separately. If for some reason you can't find your location, then look for the larger community, generally the parish.
